

Here's what parents are saying about Traders Point's High School!

"Life is real and it is tough and [my daughter] is learning and experiencing it in a safe environment. I know struggles are helping to prepare her for college and beyond. I am so glad she has not been in a neat, protective bubble but exposed to some challenging situations and given the tools to handle them."

"We feel schools should help children to be well-rounded as they prepare to go out into the world, which includes the presence of Christ in their lives and the cultivation of their individual gifts. The high school at Traders Point has allowed our daughter to learn well, to be valued, to give back to the community, and to strengthen her faith through all of those things. It offers a smaller atmosphere than most schools which fosters closer relationships with friends and allows greater accessibility to teachers. The core mission of the school, to provide a Biblical worldview, has been an incredible blessing for our daughter and our family. We only wish we had been able to start her at Traders Point earlier so she could have benefitted longer from all that it offers. At the very least, we are confident she will be ready for the "real world" and will think beyond herself as God commands us to do. We know we will enjoy our four short years at Traders Point, but will appreciate everyone there for many more."

"I am thankful for her teachers who care about her academically, personally and spiritually. She is in her 4th year at TPCA and has had so many opportunities that she wouldn't have had in public school. Because of the smaller class sizes, there is always hands on learning. She has had a variety of classes from which to choose her electives and can try things that interest her, while still taking her core and AP classes."

*"My son is able to pinpoint the worldview slant that is being pushed in media – things that completely slip my attention. At 15, he is better able to defend his faith now than I am. What a deep confidence that gives me as we look to sending him off into a culture that WILL confront him on that. He owns his faith, can share it confidently and without backing down, knows how to refute arguments intelligently and lovingly, and has been girded up by his multi-cultural experiences.
How thankful I am!"*
