

basketball: A fun-filled, Christ-centered camp focusing on the role skill, teamwork and attitude play in becoming a successful athlete.

Head Coach Kim Rockey

Kim Rockey brings a wealth of experience to the TPCA basketball camp as a member of the first women's high school basketball team to win a State Championship not one, but two years, at Warsaw High School in Warsaw, Ind. Having coached at the college level for over 18 years (Butler, Columbia and Cornell universities), Kim has mentored, taught, recruited, and currently serves as a guest speaker and lecturer. Kim owns Core Performance, a professional fitness company, which provides private training dedicated to total well-being. A graduate of Taylor University, she received her Masters degree in physical education, with an emphasis in athletic training, from Indiana University.

June 15-19, 2009

$150

9:00 a.m. to Noon

Camp will teach basketball fundamentals, raise the individual level of play and ultimately make the game more fun to participate in. With years of competitive college coaching experience and Hall of Fame credentials, Coach Kim Rockey and staff will teach the individual and team skills to get you to the next level, at any age. Ages 8-16.

Camp Highlights

- Speed/agility functional warmups
- Individual fundamental stations
- Group/team skill teaching
- Game/3-in-3 instruction
- Fun, competitive games
- Camp T-shirt & basketball

Registration Deadline is May 15, 2009.

June 15-19